Support for balanced living

Aetna International Employee Assistance Program

It's important to recognize when situations create an unhealthy amount of stress, distraction or worry.

Before any work or life issue becomes a larger problem, you can turn to our Employee Assistance Program for help. We've designed this program to support what matters most to us — your total well-being. This service is available to you at no additional cost. It doesn't even require a copay.

When you're facing difficulties or want to strengthen your emotional health, you have two main avenues of assistance:

- Confidential counseling by phone or local referrals to meet a counselor in-person
- Self-help resources

Real person-to-person help

You and your family have access to free, confidential support for any work, life, personal or family issue — any day, at any time. You can get immediate counseling by telephone or information about local counselors. They can also provide referrals to local resources, including attorneys, financial professionals and more.

Free worldwide assistance, 24/7/365

- Up to 5 free sessions of counseling per issue, per year
- Support and resources available in your language
- Discretionary information not shared with your employer

Help for anything you're going through

Professionals are ready to assist you with any issue that matters to you and your family, including:

- Improving family communication
- Striving for harmony between work and home life
- Coping with life changes
- Managing stress
- Surviving the loss of a loved one
- Living with anxiety or depression
- Addressing substance use or abuse
- Handling bullying and harassment
- Managing workplace pressures
- Navigating couples challenges
- Tackling parenting concerns
- Caring for an older person
